Company History

TRAVLEXCONGO SARL, currently engaged in travel and tourism, transit customs, and multimodal logistics, was formerly known as AFI (AFRO BUSINESS INVESTMENT) from 2006 to 2007, operating in general commerce. From 2007 to 2013, the company ventured into air transport and changed its name to align with its activities, becoming BCCOM SPRL (BUSINESS CARGO COMPANY), operating an Antonov-12 aircraft registered as 9Q-CZB. This aircraft was under a lease-purchase agreement with the Russian company KING - TRANSAVIA.

In 2013, following strengthened regulations by the International Civil Aviation Organization (ICAO) and in collaboration with the Congolese Civil Aviation Authority (AAC), which resulted in the prohibition of all flights by Russian aircraft in the country's airspace, the company expanded its logistics branch in response to this obstacle. TRAVLEXCONGO SARL was established in December 2021 after an Extraordinary General Assembly meeting, as documented by the minutes of December 28, 2021. This change reflects the same legal entity adapting its corporate name to align with its new activities: TRAVLEXCONGO SARL, which stands for Transafrican Aviation and Logistics Express in Congo.
